Librarian's Report

- Phone issues
  - The library's phones have been in and out of service but have finally been fixed.
- Library Music Program
  - Carla has tentatively scheduled with Rick Thaler a concert in the library featuring Claudia Schmidt on the dulcimer.
  - Mr. Thaler will cover lodging and food for the performer.
  - The library will be sponsoring this event as a trial with possible collaboration with the Corrales Arts Council. FOCL is currently busy with a fund raising event with local restaurants.
  - Carla checked with Village staff and there is no issue with insurance coverage.
  - Carla expects 20-30 people. A donation will be requested to cover the performer's fee. Any money collected above that will go to the Library.

- Library Programs in December
  - There were two author programs in December; one featuring Corrales author Jasmine Tritten on her memoir “The Journey of an Adventuresome Dane” and a reading by members of the Corrales Writing Group from their third annual anthology “Currents”.
  - Both programs were well attended with over 30 patrons attending each event.
  - The authors of both events donated a portion of their sales that night to FOCL. Thank you!
- More Library Program
  - A film program featuring New Mexico is planned in February.
  - An art book program is scheduled this week on Thursday.
- Tech Assist in the Library
  - Library Asst. Laura is planning a drop-in technical assistance for mobile devices and access to our digital library. This drop in program would be on Thursdays.
